Look This Way is a mélange of methodological complexities and sentimental brazenness, it implores audiences to react, to look at both beauty and entropy in 'ravenous' ways. These four superb artists articulate their spirits and moods in clashing yet oddly-harmonious styles; and the idea here is to strip us of our own securities.

In this striking and introspective show, Look This Way brings together four artists of contrasting temperaments: Faizal Suhif the 'Constant Gardener', Khairudin Zainudin the 'Plagued Soul', Anniketyni Madian the 'Wonder Woman with a Saw' and newly-annointed 'Shaded Princess' Ain Rahman. Art of course, necessitates us to take a very lengthy look, it is corporeal, with its own balance and solidity and must be reflected upon, revisited, and inspected in the light of its own unique stories. The work of art is encrusted and meshed with allusions to both inner and outer realms that are not just seminal - everything possesses a transcendent effect.
